

Partnering in our community

One of our key corporate social responsibility activities is our annual Community Partnership Day. Community Partnership Day provides an opportunity for all employees to dedicate their work day to volunteering in charitable activities.

Employees support local, community projects varying from sorting charity donations, gardening and decorating local schools, hosting tea parties at care homes and running charity car washes.

“What can I say; the Novartis staff were wonderful. I think everyone worked so hard but had fun whilst doing it. It was such a great day and we are absolutely delighted with all the work that was done. Please send my personal thanks to all those great people. I actually feel I made some new friends.”
